Fineline is a raw description of finding balance inside off-balance by staying in motion. It is the fine line between balance and off balance. It is the fine line between being sane and being insane. It is the fine line between grotesque and beautiful.

FINELINE seeks to remind us about those fine lines in life. We can dance to a disco beat in a butcher's shop. We can witness pain without doing anything to ease it. We are pieces of meat and flesh, unhidden and raw, and there is beauty and strength inside every one of us. FINELINE is an ode to acceptance and humankind.
